Vanguard University will have a much different look in 2011 after the graduation of a large 2010 class. Returning nine players from a year ago and adding nine new players to the mix, the Lions will look to improve in all areas from 2011, especially offensively and on the depth chart. Losing the majority of the starting lineup, middle of the batting order, and the entire catching staff, the team will certainly have a different strengths. In addition, 8 freshmen will provide a young and fresh outlook to build on for the future. Seniors Stacie Salazar, Emilee Reaber, and Libby Archer are excited to go out with a bang and have been embracing their new team. Salazar is VU's most proven returning pitcher and will be a big key towards Vanguard's success on the defensive end. Reaber and sophomore Brittany Colenzo should both be healthy and ready to contribute on the mound as well as freshmen hurlers Rachel Stalford and Shelby Ross. Archer returns to the infield along with juniors Kim Skoglund, Adriana Venezia, and Jen Nelson, and VUSC also returns junior outfielders Kari Bergerson and Angie Miller. The freshman class will definitely make a mark, especially behind the plate. Brittany Boggs, Breanne Gomez, Haley Croce, and sophomore transfer Shelby Kuryllo could all see time in the gear or elsewhere on the field, as all 4 also bring offensive tools. Outfielder Taylor Hallahan and Lauren Hernandez, and infield/outfielder Gabby Jackson will also contribute with their glove and bat as all 18 players have the talent to help the Lions win. Health will be a big factor as usual, but the Lions should have depth at every position to cover the bases should any unfortunate injuries occur. The Lions are looking forward to seeing their hard work pay off and having some fun as the 2012 season unfolds. Go Lions !!
